

MEDIA RELEASE

9 December 2009

During January 2010, Apache Energy will commence work on the offshore pipeline crossing for its Devil Creek Gas Project, at Gnoorea Point, Forty Mile Beach, 45 kilometres south-west of Dampier.

Site set-up activities will be followed by the commencement of drilling in mid-February 2010.

The new Devil Creek Gas Project is being developed to provide important domestic gas supplies to Western Australia.

Recreational boat access to the ramp at Gnoorea Point will be maintained throughout this work.

More information is available at www.apachedcdp.com.au or call Apache toll free on 1800 463 974.
